NOTE: There is a DEC Sanitarian stationed in close proximity to every correctional facility except in Bethel and Nome. The local state Sanitarian must be contacted at least one week in advance of receipt or utilization of wild or native foods to schedule a date and time for inspection of wild or native foods for approval prior to their being utilized by institutional food service personnel. For the Yukon-Kuskokwim Correctional Center in Bethel, the Chief Sanitarian for DEC in Juneau (465-2628) must be contacted at least two weeks in advance of the scheduled inspection in order to arrange for the Federal Sanitarian stationed in Bethel to assist state DEC and complete the inspection. For the Anvil Mountain Correctional Center in Nome, the Norton Sound Health Corporation Sanitarian (443-5411) is under contract with DEC and will complete the inspection on their behalf.

3. If there is reasonable assurance that the food item has been lawfully obtained by the donor, has been dressed, butchered, and stored without contamination or loss of quality as outlined under 4.b.(1) below and the food item has been inspected and approved by a DEC agent, certain wild and native foods, exclusive of potentially hazardous foods, may be obtained, processed, prepared and served within an institution in connection with an authorized special meal;

       NOTE: Wild and native foods directly procured under the auspices of this Department such as the salmon obtained through the prisoner work program subsistence fishery in Bethel are exempt from the inspection per (1) below but are subject to handling and service per (2) and (3) below.

       (1) Inspection, control and record keeping:

           (a) Institutional food service personnel shall coordinate and schedule an inspection by the local state Sanitarian or DEC agent to coincide with the arrival of the wild food item(s) at the institution and/or to ensure inspection of the food item(s) prior to its being utilized within the facility to approve the food and establish a reasonable determination that the food is not diseased and the animal or fish was butchered, dressed and transported in such a manner as to prevent contamination or loss of quality;

           (b) At any time following the food item coming into the possession or control of institutional food service personnel, any signs of adulteration with potentially hazardous food(s) or other questionable substances, spoilage, contamination with gross particles of soil, animal hair, intestinal waste, disease, etc., constitute grounds for rejection;

The log entry must include the date and time of receipt, source, purpose and pertinent comments regarding the condition of the food product to include the identity and findings of the DEC agent performing the inspection per (a) above.

(2) Handling and Processing On-Site:

(a) The processing of wild and native foods must occur separately from other foods to prevent cross contamination of foods, utensils and food contact surfaces. Separation is accomplished by physical separation or separation by time. Food contact surfaces, utensils and equipment will be cleaned and sanitized following the processing of wild foods;

(b) Wild and native foods will be stored separately from other foods. Separation can be accomplished by storage in a separate freezer/refrigerator or compartment or shelf in the same freezer/refrigerator;

(c) Such foods must be labeled with the identification of the food, date received and source, e.g., Moose/7-14-86/ADF & G;

(d) If fish or game are received in the round and/or unprocessed per (1) above, skinning, scaling/sliming, gilling, gutting and butchering must be done in a manner which prevents cross contamination of foods or food contact surfaces;

within the institution provided the appropriate waiver(s) of liability per
(f) below has been signed by participants;
(d) Potlatch foods described under (b) and (c) above must be displayed for service and/or consumption in a fashion separate from foods prepared by food service personnel and must be clearly identified as having been prepared outside the facility and subject to consumption at one's own risk;
(e) Special meal dishes as described under (b), (c) and (d) above must utilize tableware consisting of single-service articles;
(f) A waiver of liability as prescribed by the Superintendent for the occasion must be signed by all prisoner, staff and visitor partakers of the special foods described under (b), (c) and (d) above; and
